

Regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

Mrs. M. E. Lane favors our readers this morning with another poem.

Hut! Very hot! Fearful hot! were the remarks heard on every hand yesterday.

John Read now fills the position of yardmaster on the "Sun Flower," in this city.

Robert Jacks, the clothier, had a dandy advertising wagon on the streets yesterday.

Main street and Douglas avenue were lined with country teams yesterday. Yet our merchants said business was quiet.

There was considerable corn and new wheat in the market yesterday. Red corn sold at 30 cents and white at 35 cents; new wheat 50 to 55 cents.

The infant child, a little ten-month-old girl, of Edward Friend, who lives on South Market street, died Friday evening and was buried yesterday morning at 10 o'clock.

P. Healy has been breaking ground for his new brick, which will take the place of the old frame formerly occupied by Pollock & Pearce, on Douglas avenue.

The stone foundation for Ross' Black's new brick block is now nearly completed, and work was begun yesterday on the main structure.

The State of Kansas vs. Jim Lane, in which the latter is charged with disturbing the peace of Mr. Tangney, will be tried in Justice Thomas' court tomorrow morning.

Owing to the absence of County Treasurer Woodcock and the illness of his deputy, Mr. Wright, the county treasury was closed to business yesterday.

Robert C. Dean has received his official seal as notary public. It is one of the handsomest little seals we have seen for many a day.

W. T. Jones & Co. have just commenced operations in their new wholesale mattress and upholstery factory on Douglas avenue. They will be running in full blast in about ten days.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Jarrett, of Goodland, died Saturday morning after several weeks' sickness. The funeral will take place today at ten o'clock from the residence in Goodland.

Every restaurant in the city was jam full for dinner yesterday. The rush was so great that some had to go away hungry. Thirty-two farmers took dinner yesterday at the Kennedy house.

We met quite a number of the boys along Douglas avenue last night, whose language, gait and general appearance would seem to indicate that they will not vote for the apostle St. John.

Mr. H. Cunningham advertises elsewhere for a governess of a nine-year-old girl, on a trip to the northern lakes. Age, experience and references required, and good wages and expenses paid.

The horse dealers say the war is over, or that hostilities are suspended during the heated term. Horses and mules will be sold all the same, and some of them admit that in justice to the city they ought to pay license.

The members of the Teachers' Institute will find in Tuesday morning's issue, of this week, an article in Educational Review containing some radical views. The author is a young man, who was connected with educational matters. Look out for it.

The young men of Blaine and Logan club now have some 200 members. We are informed that it is their purpose to organize a band and club, and regale themselves with handsome suits. By the way, the Blaine and Logan club as represented by cuts in our possession, are the handsomest uniforms for political purposes we ever saw.

Killen & Stockinger have been awarded the contract for doing the plumbing and putting in gas at O. C. Daley's new brick on Douglas avenue. They will also put in the same building, for the use of the cracker factory, a twenty horse power engine and boiler. Work is progressing very rapidly on the building, and now it will not be long before the cracker factory is a veritable fact.

Contributors or correspondents should direct their letters in the name of the editor, or simply "Editor Eagle." If addressed in any other way the matter is liable to prove old before it reaches the proper hands. Three communications the past week, which were directed to individuals connected with the paper, instead of being directed to "Editor Eagle," were delayed, one of them rendered worthless.

Capt. W. Y. Drew, the special agent of the Interior Department, for the examination of fraudulent entries of public lands, whose headquarters have been in this city for some months past, has recently ordered to investigate the frauds in the Larned district and to make the city of Larned his headquarters for the present. Capt. Drew is a very capable, effective and conscientious officer, and he is commended to the people of Larned as being a perfect gentleman in all respects.

A man from the east, who had been here a day or two and had evidently seen some body drinking, stood near the Tremont hotel waiting for the street car. Presently a load of hay came along and he made a rush after it, mistaking it for a street car. He made a jump for the rear end of the load and caught on to the hay, which gave way and he fell back into the street. He gathered himself up and exclaimed, "What sort of street cars have they got here, any way?"

The manufacturing establishment started on Douglas avenue some months ago, opposite Israel Bros. clothing store, for the purpose of making the spring bed, is daily growing in extent and business, and is now turning out a class of goods that meet with ready sale. It is being operated by two practical men, Messrs. Sims and Perry, and is destined to become a prominent factor in the city's business. The patent spiral bed spring is now considered one of the very best and rapidly grows in favor where ever it is introduced.

A fresh arrival from the Empire state took up the Wichita Times at the post office bookstore yesterday, when his eye caught the following item: "This is an Independent Republican paper; make no mistake about this." Then turning the little rag over he saw on "Cleveland for vice-president, Thomas A. Hendricks for vice-president." He returned it over again and again to see if he had read aright; then he exclaimed: "My God, don't they know out here that these fellows are not Republicans?" The man from New York then ran out as if intent on hunting up the Times man and tell him to pull down his sign.

H. J. Harding, the head of the firm of Harding & Fisher, leaves tomorrow morning for the east. He will go up to his old home in Brookfield, Massachusetts, for a few days, then down to the sea shore until the opening of importers book and stationery trade when he will put in four or five weeks buying. There is the largest book and stationery and wall paper house in the state of Kansas; and Mr. Harding says he will make such purchases and arrangements as will enable their house to supply every retailer in the Arkansas valley at figures which retailers cannot duplicate east or west. In wall and other papers manufacturers with whom he is acquainted and with whom he has dealt for years, have agreed to furnish him stock at such rates as will enable him to compete as a wholesaler, with any house west of New York and Boston. The merchants of other towns should make a note of this.

A new postoffice has been petitioned for at Bayne.

The boys are now catching some very fine strings of fish out of the Little river.

A few of the Minneapolis excursionists are expected to return home today.

Large quantities of fruit are now being handled by the express companies.

The past week has been a rather quiet one at the Register's office.

No business of importance was transacted in the district court yesterday.

The large front for Fritz Sautzler's new block on Market street is now up, and it's a daisy, too.

The celebrated or somewhat noted divorce case of Mary F. Maddux vs. J. D. Maddux, will come up for hearing in the district court Monday.

Judge Sims does not act much "courtly" now-a-days as he did in years of yore. He will be on the bench again Monday. Ready to hear pleadings from either sex.

One of our real estate firms on Friday sold six quarter sections of Sedgewick county lands, besides several pieces of city property. Who imagines the real estate business isn't on a boom?

The case of the State of Kansas vs. the Peterson boys, who were arrested one day last week for throwing stones at the passenger train near Derby, will be heard in Justice Thomas' court tomorrow morning.

The State of Kansas vs. Emil Werner, in which the latter is charged with assaulting Mrs. Sims, and also the case of the State vs. J. L. Sims, the husband of Mrs. S., will be heard with assaulting Werner, are two interesting cases set for hearing before Justice Hobbs.

"Oh, Kaiser, have you lost a dog? A bold, ornate looking yellowish one?" "Yes, he is probably at Wells, Fargo & Co's express office. Leastwise a 'yaller' dog is there that was found on the Frisco train Sunday last, and who is supposed to belong to a family who came over that road from the east Sunday.

A regular matinee was being held at Baldwin & Ostergren's gallery yesterday morning; artistic matinee, of course, in which pretty babies and good looking women seemed to predominate. Prof. Merriett, the portrait artist, was present, as one of the pictures goes on to his easel.

C. M. Flora writes back, from just where we know not, to his attorney, T. R. Wall, that just as soon as he can master up a little over a hundred dollars he proposes to come back, pay his fine and remain here. The people of Wichita are quite well pleased by the matter now stands.

Mrs. L. E. Bailey, who lectures for the Women's Temperance Union every evening at the Presbyterian church, comes well endorsed by the press as a speaker, several extracts having been shown to that effect, and we have no doubt that those who favor woman in the policy will be delighted with her speech to-night.

The case of Henry and Ann Miller, who were arrested on suspicion of being the parties who broke open a car on the Santa Fe track a few nights ago and stole a case of books belonging to A. Allen, was heard in Justice Thomas' court Friday, resulting in the defendants being discharged as there was not sufficient evidence to hold them for the alleged crime.

In mentioning the real estate transfer yesterday of Joseph Corvin to "The Subscribers"—the typewriter was a little off. It should have read Joseph Corvin transferred to M. G. Mosher lots 11 and 12 in Pierce & Van Tilburg's addition. Mr. Mosher will have his new purchase reserved at once and offer it for sale in city lots.

The matter of numbering the houses of this city will come up again Monday night. The excuse for non-action at the last meeting was that the city engineer had forgotten to bring along his plans. He couldn't possibly go back after them, no matter how much the business men wanted the job done, and of course in the absence of any revenue from whiskey license, the council could not afford to hire some one to go for them. For fear that the engineer should forget again, or some other excuse should be offered, both a plan and an ordinance have been prepared ready to offer.

Mr. Metcalf, of Cincinnati, whom we mentioned yesterday morning, bought twelve city lots during the day as an investment. He happened through here seven years ago at which time he bought a few lots and as a result he has over their present value that he concluded to go in a little deeper. Mr. Metcalf is satisfied that Wichita offers the best investments of any point in the west for a packing house, and he armed himself with our statistical tables and a few copies of the EAGLE with the avowed purpose of making some of Cincinnati's packers see it also.

SIX DAYS OF NASTINESS.

"Six Days of Nastiness" is the play to be put on the boards in the district court next week.

Maddux vs. Maddux; Busenback vs. Busenback; Tillman vs. Tillman; Bush vs. Bush will make up the bill of fare.

If we could report all these cases in full, dwelling on the suggestive portions of the story testimony, telling with a glass the much that will be indecent, and of course, every morning be a great rush for the Eagle, every morning, but we won't. Everybody would read with an unusual zest, but it would be at the expense of decency, and in many cases, at the expense of innocence. Nobody would be bettered, while many would be harmed. This effort may be attributed to a lack of enterprise upon our part, but those who enjoy such things must go and hear for themselves.

LAND SLIDES.

The following are the real estate transfers recorded in the office of the register of deeds since our last report:

For The Eagle.

When I view from my office window the heterogeneous conglomerate masses of corruption that adorn the back yards and alleys, and then to go out upon the main streets and see the filth that abounds there on every side, I don't wonder at the heart being seen on the streets every day. It has got to such a ridiculous pass that if you will go out at night you will observe that the man in the moon holds his nose when he passes over Wichita.

Yours without a struggle, H. H. YOST.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Geo. Swartz, of Topeka, was in the city yesterday.

T. J. Temple and W. L. Moore, came down from Hutchinson yesterday.

J. W. Peake, a business man of St. Louis, is stopping at the Tremont.

Mrs. David L. Miller, living a short distance east of the cemetery, is very sick.

Miss Nettie P. Taylor, of St. Louis, is visiting with Mrs. G. C. Strong on Fourth avenue.

Dr. Greenlee, of Clearwater, was in on business yesterday. He says Clearwater is still on the boom.

Miss Lillie Hall, who has been visiting in the city for the past few weeks, returned on Friday to her home in Great Bend.

Dr. J. B. Lawrence, of Clearwater, came in with his wife Friday night and started her home yesterday morning to visit friends in Iowa.

We are sorry to state that A. B. Wright, deputy county treasurer, is quite sick with typhoid malaria, and was unable to attend to business yesterday.

Mrs. J. M. Manuel and Mrs. S. G. Winch went on the "Sunflower" for an extensive trip. They will stop at Toronto, Port Scott and other points in the eastern part of the state.

Henry Richards, of the Wichita Wholesale Grocery establishment, went down to Medicine Lodge yesterday morning. Mr. R. still owns considerable property in that growing town.

Mrs. Robert Jacks will give a party on Monday night to a large number of young gentlemen and ladies in honor of Miss Phoebe Goldberg, of Quincy, Ill., a niece of Mr. Jacks now visiting here.

Mr. R. Hatfield returned from Cheney yesterday morning, where he spent the day before. He reports Cheney growing and the country and crops looking fine.

C. H. Ketchum, who went to the Hot Springs of Arkansas some three months ago very low with inflammatory rheumatism, is now, we are gratified to state, nearly cured, and will be at home the first of the month.

Mr. R. Flood, of Goodland, was in the city yesterday. He reports so much corn coming into that market that buyers are unable to handle it.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Alexander and daughter, of Louisville, Kentucky, are guests at the Occidental. Mr. A. represents nearly nine millions of capital and the company of which he is a member have large land interests in Southern Kansas.

Rev. S. I. McKee and his wife from Pennsylvania, arrived in the city yesterday evening, on their way to California, and are going to stop a few days with his brother, A. H. McKee, one of our real estate men, and an old citizen. They have not met for twelve years.

A. Tigniere, Jr., is now at Wrekesha, Wis., acting as secretary of Cethesia Mining Springs. He sends the editor of the Eagle an illuminated scroll and bird, done by a pen in ink, with his, the editor's name, combined in the work, which is very pretty.

Mr. John C. Dost, cashier at the Citizens bank, and wife, have returned from a four weeks' visit to Pennsylvania. Their trip was robbed of much of its pleasure by the death of their baby soon after their arrival at the hotel, their former home. Mr. Dost says the weather there was cool and dry and the crops suffering for rain. He says in no city he visited did he see such a business dash as is visible in Wichita.
